Nixon Given Warm Nod by Nation's Chief

Disarmament Aide Riles GOP by Backing Herter for Veep

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew in from Panama today with a warm greeting for Vice President Nixon and the briefest of handshakes for Harold Stassen, his disarmament aide who announced a move yesterday to push Nixon off the Republican ticket.

The President had no comment on the controversy, even before this tableau at the airport, Nixon's renomination had appeared to be nearly cemented.

Nixon was the first to greet Eisenhower as the smiling President stepped down from his private plane, Columbine III, at National Airport.

Twenty feet down a receiving line which included diplomats, Republican Congress members and government officials, Stassen was waiting with a broad smile.

Eisenhower shook hands with everybody and Stassen remarked as he put out his hand, "Good morning. Congratulations on a great job down there."

In the background rose a chant of "We like Ike" from a group of young Republicans.

STASSEN HAD told a news conference yesterday that in loyalty to President Eisenhower, he would work to replace Nixon on the GOP ticket with Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts.

Stassen said private polls had shown that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 per cent stronger than an Eisenhower-Nixon combination. The added strength, he said, might mean the difference between Republican and Democratic control of Congress.

Eisenhower chatted momentarily with Nixon before climbing the trip to the White House.

Stassen stressed that he did not make his supplant - Nixon move as a member of the President's official family, but as a private citizen. He said he still considers himself a member of that family.

Nixon, interviewed separately, renewed his statement of last night that he stands on his announcement that he is available for a second term bid but that the matter is one for Eisenhower and the GOP convention.

Stassen caught his fellow Republicans by surprise with his Herter-instead-of - Nixon proposal. The White House quickly disavowed (Please turn to page two)

Pennington Drive within $5,000 of Goal

A financial campaign to keep Pennington Bread Inc. and its three-quarter-million-dollar annual payroll in Washington C. H. is within $5,000 of its $50,000 goal.

A squad of approximately 60 men and women was hard at work Tuesday in an all-out effort to wind up the drive by Wednesday night. Thursday is the deadline.

Mac Dews, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee conducting the community-wide appeal, told a meeting of workers Monday night that a total of $23,100 has been collected or "definitely committed" and that another $2,000 is in sight. This, added to the $20,000 in the C. of C.'s Industrial Development Fund, means that at least $4,900 is still to be raised.

Morgan B. Pennington, president of the baking corporation whose plant here was destroyed by fire June 9, as a signed a formal agreement with the Chamber of Commerce, providing for "prompt" rebuilding of the burned-out Clinton Ave. bakery upon successful completion of the financial assistance drive.

The agreement followed on the heels of a Chamber of Commerce offer of aid after the Pennington firm had taken an option on a Columbus site. The company president later announced that if the fund drive is a success Pennington will concentrate its baking operations in a modern, streamlined plant here with increased production and employment.

CAMPAIGN captains and teams turned out nearly 100 per cent at Monday night's meeting as dinner guests of the Hotel Washington Coffee Shop. "Prospect cards" were distributed, and announcement was made of a final report meeting beginning at 6 p. m. Wednesday in the Coffee Shop dining room.

After the invocation by the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Tom Mark, Chamber of Commerce president briefly outlined the purpose of the session, and William Stoughton, C. of C. general manager, reviewed the history of the Chamber's offer to Pennington and read the contract terms.

Dews, who expressed confidence that the goal will be reached, pointed out the growing interest in the campaign throughout the city. "Almost everybody seems to want to have a part," he said.

"This emphasizes what we can do as a community," Mark declared. "This kind of spirit makes Washington C. H. a better place in which to live and in which to do business."

Dews added that, since it will be impossible for drive workers to personally contact everyone who wants to help, telephone calls will be gratefully accepted by the Chamber of Commerce (5-6781) which will assign a solicitor for a personal visit. Checks mailed to the Chamber office will be properly credited.

Illinois Fund Scandal Gets More Tangled

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A grand jury inquiry into a $1 million fund scandal involving former Illinois State Auditor Orville E. Hodge resumes today with new information about Hodge's tangled financial affairs.

The probe broadened yesterday with the announcement by Albert E. Jenner Jr., assistant attorney general, that an apparently forged state check was cashed in 1953. Previously, the first questionable state check was believed to have been cashed in May 1955.

George Contrakon, Sangano County state's attorney, has said he will ask the county grand jury to return 46 indictments, each carrying six counts and covering the alleged cashing of $650,000 in bogus state warrants.

Hodge, a Republican in the GOP state administration, began his elective term as auditor in January 1953. He already is charged in a federal indictment returned Saturday in Chicago on 54 counts of mishandling federally insured bank deposits.

Two-Ton Limb Kills Tree Expert

COLUMBUS (AP)—Frederick C. Morrison, 58, of Mount Sterling, was killed today by a two-ton limb he cut from a tree 1 1/4 miles northwest of Darbydale.

Co-workers said the 18-inch limb, 40 feet long, rolled against Morrison as he completed the cut and knocked him 20 feet to the ground, then struck him in the middle of the back, crushing his body.

Morrison, a bachelor, owned the Morrison Tree Service of Mount Sterling. The accident occurred on the Harrison Lukens farm.

LONDON (AP)—Marilyn Monroe says she never dresses to please men.

Her reaction came in reply to criticism from a London fashion expert (a woman) that Marilyn is a "dowdy dresser." Marilyn explained she dresses to please men only.

Living Cost Hits Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living reached an all-time high in June, the government reports.

The Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumer prices in American cities rose seven-tenths of 1 per cent above the May level.

The index for June stood at 116.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average, 1.6 per cent above the level a year earlier.

More than 100,000 General Electric Co. employees will receive a wage increase averaging more than two cents an hour as a result of the increase in the index.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, said the boost will add $80,000 weekly to pay envelopes.

Under an agreement signed in August last year the employees received a raise of a half-cent for each one-half of 1 per cent that the cost of living index rises over a base figure of 114.9.

Threat of Rain Fails To Dampen Spirit of People

Queen To Be Crowned And First of Shows Are Set for Tonight

The Fayette County Fair must go on.

Despite the gloomy overcast skies and the threat of rain and thunderstorms, literally hundreds of men, women and children were milling about the Fairground Tuesday setting up their exhibits where it did not look like there was any place left for them.

But, they were getting it done somehow.

They had been at it since early morning and by mid-afternoon, the confusion had begun to subside and neat rows of displays were emerging in buildings and tents.

The Fairground was crowded with trucks and automobiles all day, for Tuesday was the day for getting the exhibits in place. It was hard to tell where the most activity was—back around the livestock barns, in the Merchants Building where the grain, horticulture, home furnishing and needlework and mercantile displays are to be made, under the grandstand where some of the Junior Fair booths are located or along the Midway where rides and shows and concessions were being readied for the fun-seekers.

THERE WAS not so much going on back among the barns after the race horses had been given their early morning workouts. But, trotters and pacers were still coming in. A member of the Speed Committee, wearing a broad and satisfied smile, said "we've got enough horses on the ground now to assure plenty of good racing."

There will be at least four harness horse races of two dashes each on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Exhibitors were given until 6 p. m. Tuesday to get everything in order and there was a frenzied scramble everywhere to get it done.

One of the highlights of the Tuesday night Fair was the crowning of Junior Fair queen, Miss Carolyn Crago, in front of the grandstand at 7:45 p. m. Later in the evening, the coronation ceremony is to be repeated in the Junior Fair tent (known as the D.P.L. tent) over near the Merchants Building. The second ceremony is to be held during the intermission of the Talent Show, which starts at 8 o'clock.

The judging starts Wednesday in nearly every department—a detailed schedule of judging is included in the Fair program on page 8.

THE MIDWAY attractions were closed Tuesday morning because the hundreds on the Fairground were too busy with their own urgent business at hand to take time out for anything else. But, plans called for the whole gaudy area to swing into raucous activity by late afternoon for the crowds that are expected to come to the Fair's first night show—the Hell Drivers—in (Please turn to page two)

Revised Offer Hinted Readied In Steel Strike

Company Chiefs Meet Prior to Negotiation Parley with Union

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of the nation's major steel companies met behind closed doors today, apparently to work over a new offer aimed at ending the 24-day-old steel strike. They will meet later with negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America.

Both sides have declined to say anything about the reported new offer. There was speculation it would call for a three-year contract in contrast to industry's original demand for a five-year one, and one or two cents more than offered previously in hourly benefits.

John A. Stephens, industry's top negotiator, met with his management group at the Baltimore Hotel during the morning while David J. McDonald, union president, met secretly with union representatives at Hampshire House.

"Please God, that this visit to New York will be more fruitful than the last," he said.

Earlier contract talks here ended in a stalemate that signaled a walkout of 650,000 steelworkers. Nearly 90 per cent of the national steel capacity has been idled by the strike and about 100,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off.

THE NEW discussions were called Sunday by the industry's top negotiator, John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel. Talks in Pittsburgh had collapsed last week.

There was speculation that the companies might be prepared either to revise their basic proposals or to modify them within the framework of the long-term pact they say is necessary for industry stability.

The companies have offered a contract lasting four years and four months with what they say is a package wage boost amounting to 17 2/3 cents in the first year. The union estimated the offer at 14 cents an hour and said it was too little. The union also favors a two-year contract.

The steelworkers' prestrike wages averaged $2.46 an hour. The union has never made public its wage demands but is reportedly seeking an increase of 15 cents an hour.

Strike effects — Nearly 90 per cent of national steel capacity idled, 650,000 USW members on strike, approximately 100,000 other workers already furloughed in allied industries, principally transportation and mines; effects spreading to more industries as stockpiles of steel are depleted; Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) calls for settlement before U. S. economy is "strangled" and "whole free world" endangered.

Timber growth and use in the United States are nearly in balance.

Nixon Given Nod

The idea with a statement that cast some doubt on Stassen's continuing in his Cabinet-rank post. Many Republicans regarded Stassen's attempted bombshell as a dud, and quickly predicted Nixon would be renominated despite the move against him.

But Stassen said he had expected the "flurry of criticism" which greeted his move, claimed support for it from a group of "Republican leaders" whom he declined to identify, and said he did not plan to resign his White House post.

He said he had informed both Eisenhower and Nixon in advance of his proposed action.

He challenged the Republican National Committee to "check the sentiment of the people" on the relative strength of Nixon and Herter, and indicated he plans to continue his effort.

At his office on his return from the airport Stassen said he has had a number of telegrams and telephone calls concerning his statement and they are running about 10 to 15 in backing his stand.

Stassen had about 15 or 20 copies of telegrams in his hand but did not say how many in all he had received.

He said some of them were from delegates and party leaders and to them he was sending this telegram:

"May I respectfully suggest that you verify my basic appraisal of sentiment by talking with your own neighbor and associates, including particularly independents and those of labor and minorities who hold the decisive balance in elections; and that if convenient you take a local opinion poll regarding this negative factor before the convention."

Stassen said nobody has challenged his appraisal that Nixon on the ticket would reduce by 6 per cent the vote Eisenhower could get with Herter as his mate.

From then on, there won't be a dull moment until late Saturday night when the Fair folds up for another year.

Meanwhile, everyone was looking into the west, with fingers crossed, and hoping the Weatherman would smile.

The outlook along this line admittedly was not a bright one. The forecast was for scattered showers and thunderstorms in the central and southern portion of the state late Tuesday and Tuesday night and for more of the same, but to a lesser degree, on Wednesday.

The rain Monday night did not interfere with Tuesday activities. The fairground turf was firm underfoot and the driveways, which had been recently graded and oiled, were in good condition. Even heavy trucks were having no trouble anywhere on the fairground.

The race track, considered one of the best and fastest drying in the state, was in almost perfect condition.

No Progress Seen in Phone Strike Talks

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Union and management seem farther apart than before in their efforts to settle the ten-day-old strike of 600 operators and service workers at the Consolidated Telephone Co., a union spokesman says.

Frank Thernes, District 4 representative of the Communication Workers of America, gave that estimate at the conclusion of a negotiating session here Monday night. Earlier he had said progress was being made toward an agreement on a new one year contract between the company and the CWA.

These were reported as principal issues blocking agreement:

1. The company's insistence on a no-strike clause and abolishment of the union shop.
2. Reclassification as managers of certain personnel now in the union.

A union spokesman said the union is trying to preserve conditions listed in the old contract. Wage scales have not been discussed.

The strike began July 15 when the old one-year contract expired. About half the telephones in the parts of 24 southern Ohio counties served by the company are dial operated. Supervisors are handling emergency calls in the manually operated exchanges.

Court's Ruling On Liability Hit

Charitable Groups Said Handicapped

AKRON (AP)—A recent Ohio Supreme Court decision making charitable institutions liable for damages was under attack today.

The ruling will "make it impossible to get responsible people to serve on boards of non-profit institutions unless they are able to buy heavy liability coverage," said Joseph Thomas Jr., secretary of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., and executive committeeman at City Hospital.

The Supreme Court said an aged patient at St. John's Hospital, Cleveland, had the right to sue after he fell out of bed, had his leg set, and fell out of bed again.

Under the old interpretation of the law, charitable institutions were immune from such law suits. Money held in trust for charity ought not to be diverted for damage claims, previous courts had ruled.

"I can hardly conceive of some of our retired business leaders serving on these boards when they are asked to give not only their time but possibly their life savings," said Thomas.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Mrs. Blanche E. Jacobs, 32, was indicted yesterday by the Franklin County grand jury on two counts of first-degree murder for the July 2 knife slaying of her elderly landlord and his wife.

Revised Offer Hinted Readied In Steel Strike

Company Chiefs Meet Prior to Negotiation Parly with Union

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of the nation's major steel companies met behind closed doors today, apparently to work over a new offer aimed at ending the 24-day-old steel strike. They will meet later with negotiators for the United Steelworkers of America.

Both sides have declined to say anything about the reported new offer. There was speculation it would call for a three-year contract in contrast to industry's original demand for a five-year one, and one or two cents more than offered previously in hourly benefits.

John A. Stephens, industry's top negotiator, met with his management group at the Biltmore Hotel during the morning while David J. McDonald, union president, met secretly with union representatives at Hampshire House.

"Please God, that this visit to New York will be more fruitful than the last," he said.

Earlier contract talks here ended in a stalemate that signaled a walkout of 650,000 steelworkers. Nearly 90 per cent of the national steel capacity has been idled by the strike and about 103,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off.

THE NEW discussions were called Sunday by the industry's top negotiator, John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel. Talks in Pittsburgh had collapsed last week.

There was speculation that the companies might be prepared either to revise their basic proposals or to modify them within the framework of the long-term pact they say is necessary for industry stability.

The companies have offered a contract lasting four years and four months with what they say is a package wage boost amounting to 17 2-3 cents in the first year. The union estimated the offer at 14 cents an hour and said it was too little. The union also favors a two-year contract.

The steelworkers' prestrike wages averaged $2.46 an hour. The union has never made public its wage demands but is reportedly seeking an increase of 15 cents an hour.

Strike effects — Nearly 90 per cent of national steel capacity idle, 650,000 USW members on strike, approximately 103,000 other workers already furloughed in allied industries, principally transportation and mines; effects spreading to more industries as stockpiles of steel are depleted; Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) calls for settlement before U. S. economy is "strangled" and "whole free world" endangered.

Timber growth and use in the United States are nearly in balance.

Ohio River Is Experiencing Boom Like in Pioneer Days

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio River, key to the opening of the West in pioneer days, is experiencing boom days again.

For nearly 200 miles in each direction from this city in the upper river valley, American industries are pouring millions into industrial development. Coal mining once again is making work; river traffic last year hit a mammoth 65 million tons, and long sleepy river towns are awakening to the road of hulls and the chatter of riveters.

Aluminum production combined with electric and atomic power has triggered the industrial boom. All along the valley, winding through five states—Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana—smokestacks pierce the skyline, giant earth moving machines churn up soil untouched by the plow for generations. There is bustle everywhere.

This American Ruhr once was concentrated in the comparatively short strip from Pittsburgh through Youngstown to Cleveland. Now it is moving downstream at indications it will go all the way down the river to Cincinnati.

The reasons are easy to see. Aluminum manufacture consumes electricity at a greedy rate—nine kilowatt hours produce a single pound of the light, white metal. The nation's biggest coal beds are in this area, and coal is a must for the low-cost production of electricity. In addition, the river provides cheap transportation.

Aluminum isn't the only power-hungry industry locating in the new boom area. The Atomic Energy Commission's billion dollar gaseous diffusion plant north of Portsmouth has two of the world's biggest steam-powered electric plants working for it, both in the million-kilowatt class.

Two companies are leaping into the valley's aluminum producing race with a 120 million dollar investment each. Another is building an 80 million dollar smelting plant.

For its 120 million dollar investment, the Olin Mathieson Corp. contemplates the world's first fully integrated aluminum plant. The firm is spending 90 million for an aluminum plant at Clarington, about 50 miles upstream from here, and 30 million for a 450,000-kilowatt power plant at Cresap.

Bottom, W. Va., a little farther upstream on the opposite side of the river.

The power plant will be connected to the aluminum reduction plant and rolling mill by a high tension transmission line. The plant will be built on a big new coal mine to be constructed, owned and operated by the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., and will make the first time that coal mined directly on the site is used to provide power for the reduction of alumina.

Hit-Run Victim Ignores Injury, Helps Nab Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Sachs, despite several broken ribs, assisted in apprehending a motorist who had knocked him down at a midtown intersection and then failed to stop his car.

Police gave this account: The 53-year-old Sachs got up and ran after the vehicle, securing a hold of the door. The car still didn't stop and Sachs finally lost his grip and fell to the pavement.

Just then a police patrol car arrived. Sachs climbed in and within a few minutes the fleeing motorist, George Hunt, Jr., 35, was halted. He was charged with drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Sachs was hospitalized for treatment of his rib fractures.

Those are the main projects, but there are many others. Since World War II, just two of the states touched by the upper Ohio—Pennsylvania and Ohio—have each received more than a billion dollars worth of plant construction.

Ohio's industrial expansion per square mile has been tops for the nation.

The boom has hit the valley like rain after a long drought. For years river towns had been losing population as young people sought jobs elsewhere. Now new job opportunities are developing daily and outlanders are pouring into the area.

Loss of coal markets and the mechanization of mines had combined to throw miners out of work.

But the ravenous furnaces of the new power plants are gobbling up thousands of tons daily and crying for more. Coal production has boomed with the industrial boom and miners are finding plenty of work again. Bituminous production, for the first time in five

Pilot Flies Low, Drops Keys in Yard

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration started an inquiry after receiving a complaint an old single engine plane flew too low over suburban Glen Dale.

Investigators traced the plane to Donald T. Smith, a crop dusting pilot, and got this explanation:

"I took off in the plane and then discovered I had the car keys in my pocket, so I flew low over my family's place and dropped the keys into the yard."

years, is expected to top the 500 million ton figure.

Under war stress aluminum production was pushed to a billion pounds a year by 1945. Now it is about three billion pounds and in another four years is expected to go to 60 billion, much of it from the Ohio Valley. Aluminum plants will draw more and more allied industries dependent on them for raw and semifinished materials.

Meanwhile, there is pressure to speed up modernization of the river's lock system under a billion dollar, 20-year program by the federal government. At the moment, the average length of big barges on the river is nearly twice as long as the 600 foot locks.

Tows must be broken in two and reassembled on the other side of each lock. New 1,200-foot locks, now under construction, will take care of that, saving time and money by cutting the present three-day delay in the locks to about 16 hours. The hope is that the modernization program can be cut to 12 or 15 years.

After generations of dozing languidly in the industrial sun, the Ohio Valley is awakening with its old pioneer spirit, preparing to leap back into a key position in the nation's economy.

Nixon's Father Leaves Hospital

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—Vice President Nixon's father, Frank Nixon, has gone to his home in Whittier from Cottage Hospital in Fullerton, where he was confined a week ago by stomach hemorrhages.

Because of his arthritic condition, the 77-year-old Nixon probably will be confined to his bed and chair, hospital officials said. They said the ulcer condition had responded well to treatment.

He's No Escapee, Just Pig-Chaser

WARREN, Maine (AP)—State Police issued an alarm that Armand Vigue, 23, had escaped from the state prison farm.

The alarm was recalled when Vigue returned to the farm with a pig in his arms.

Vigue explained he had run into the woods to catch the porker, a 2-hour job. The pig, he said, had broken out of the pen at the farm.

Ohio River Is Experiencing Boom Like in Pioneer Days

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio River, key to the opening of the West in pioneer days, is experiencing boom days again.

For nearly 200 miles in each direction from this city in the upper river valley, American industries are pouring millions into industrial development. Coal mining once again is making work; river traffic last year hit a mammoth 65 million tons, and long sleepy river towns are awakening to the road of bulldozers and the chatter of riveters.

Aluminum production combined with electric and atomic power has triggered the industrial boom. All along the valley, winding through five states — Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana — smokestacks pierce the skyline, giant earth moving machines churn up soil untouched by the plow for generations. There is bustle everywhere.

This American Ruhr once was concentrated in the comparatively short strip from Pittsburgh through Youngstown to Cleveland. Now it is moving downstream at indications it will go all the way down the river to Cincinnati.

The reasons are easy to see. Aluminum manufacture consumes electricity at a greedy rate—nine kilowatt hours produce a single pound of the light, white metal. The nation's biggest coal beds are in this area, and coal is a must for the low-cost production of electricity. In addition, the river provides cheap transportation.

Aluminum isn't the only power-hungry industry locating in the new boom area. The Atomic Energy Commission's billion dollar gaseous diffusion plant north of Portsmouth has two of the world's biggest steam-powered electric plants working for it, both in the million-kilowatt class.

Two companies are leaping into the valley's aluminum producing race with a 120 million dollar investment each. Another is building an 80 million dollar smelting plant.

For its 120 million dollar investment, the Olin Mathieson Corp. contemplates the world's first fully integrated aluminum plant. The firm is spending 90 million for an aluminum plant at Clarington, about 50 miles upstream from here, and 30 million for a 450,000-kilowatt power plant at Cresap

Bottom, W. Va., a little farther upstream on the opposite side of the river.

The power plant will be connected to the aluminum reduction plant and rolling mill by a high-tension transmission line. The plant will be built on a big new coal mine to be constructed, owned

Hit-Run Victim Ignores Injury, Helps Nab Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Sachs, despite several broken ribs, assisted in apprehending a motorist who had knocked him down at a midtown intersection and then failed to stop his car.

Police gave this account: The 53-year-old Sachs got up and ran after the vehicle, securing a hold of the door. The car still didn't stop and Sachs finally lost his grip and fell to the pavement.

Just then a police patrol car arrived. Sachs climbed in and within a few minutes the fleeing motorist, George Hunt, Jr., 35, was halted. He was charged with drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Sachs was hospitalized for treatment of his rib fractures.

ed and operated by the Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., and will make the first time that coal mined directly on the site is used to provide power for the reduction of alumina.

Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. is building a 216 million dollar aluminum fabricating plant about 50 miles downstream from here at Ravenswood on the West Virginia side of the river.

Ane Aluminum Corp. of America a giant in the industry will build an 80 million dollar smelting plant on the Ohio 18 miles upstream from Evansville, Ind.

Those are the main projects, but there are many others. Since World War II, just two of the states touched by the upper Ohio—Pennsylvania and Ohio—have each received more than a billion dollars worth of plant construction. Ohio's industrial expansion per square mile has been tops for the nation.

The boom has hit the valley like rain after a long drought. For years river towns had been losing population as young people sought jobs elsewhere. Now new job opportunities are developing daily and outlanders are pouring into the area.

Loss of coal markets and the mechanization of mines had combined to throw miners out of work.

But the ravenous furnaces of the new power plants are gobbling up thousands of tons daily and crying for more. Coal production has boomed with the industrial boom and miners are finding plenty of work again. Bituminous production, for the first time in five

Pilot Flies Low, Drops Keys in Yard

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration started an inquiry after receiving a complaint an old single engine plane flew too low over suburban Glen Dale.

Investigators traced the plane to Donald T. Smith, a crop dusting pilot, and got this explanation:

"I took off in the plane and then discovered I had the car keys in my pocket, so I flew low over my family's place and dropped the keys into the yard."

years, is expected to top the 500 million ton figure.

Under war stress aluminum production was pushed to a billion pounds a year by 1945. Now it is about three billion pounds and in another four years is expected to go to 60 billion, much of it from the Ohio Valley. Aluminum plants will draw more and more allied industries dependent on them for raw and semifinished materials.

Meanwhile, there is pressure to speed up modernization of the river's lock system under a billion dollar, 20-year program by the federal government. At the moment, the average length of big barges on the river is nearly twice as long as the 600 foot locks. Tows must be broken in two and reassembled on the other side of each lock. New 1,200-foot locks, now under construction, will take care of that, saving time and money by cutting the present three-day delay in the locks to about 10 hours. The hope is that the modernization program can be cut to 12 or 15 years.

After generations of dozing languidly in the industrial sun, the Ohio Valley is awakening with its old pioneer spirit, preparing to leap back into a key position in the nation's economy.

Nixon's Father Leaves Hospital

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—Vice President Nixon's father, Frank Nixon, has gone to his home in Whittier from Cottage Hospital in Fullerton, where he was confined a week ago by stomach hemorrhages.

Because of his arthritic condition, the 77-year-old Nixon probably will be confined to his bed and chair, hospital officials said. They said the ulcer condition had responded well to treatment.

Vigue explained he had run into the woods to catch the porker, a 2-hour job. The pig, he said, had broken out of the pen at the farm.

A Child's Lesson In Modern Economics

Sometimes adults can learn a lesson in economics from things a child does.

It was reported by a friend a few days ago that a four year old child he knew when given fifty cents had become impressed with the value of money. He was said to have bought himself hundreds of dollars in "play money" and appeared highly satisfied for a time because he could buy "lots of things" from his playmates. He became disillusioned and disheartened later to find his "play money" in the grownup world wasn't worth much.

Maybe this child would not have felt too badly had he known that in the course of history, grownups in government had, many times printed money without value to pay government debts. Disaster through this means of inflation always followed.

Excessive credit extension is now another means of creating artificial money. This can be done because 90 per cent of modern business is done by check. In the U. S. this secondary means of inflation is controlled by the Federal Reserve Bank.

In the free world a third major means of inflation is becoming apparent . . . and controls governing it are almost non-existent.

It is peculiar to the modern industrial nations of Europe and to the United States. It is the tendency for wage rates to grow without any definite or normal relationship to production.

The raising of wage rates, without relation to productivity increases, has become common practice where unions engage in industry-wide bargaining. It tends to cause prices to rise generally; and may result in an endless inflation spiral.

When production is not increased, there are no more goods for the people of a nation to buy no matter how high the wage scale is set.

Where wage rates become excessive as related to productivity, people with insurance, pensions, saving accounts, government bonds and other fixed income obligations find that these investments deteriorate in value. Hard earned savings of older people, once thought adequate to sustain them during their retirement, will no longer provide the necessities of life.

The remedy is to curtail the monopolistic power of industry-wide unions by applying to unions the same anti-monopoly restraints that now apply to business.

Brown Eyes Curb Sunburn?

That if you have brown eyes you are less likely to suffer sunburn than if you have blue or gray eyes.

That the population of the United States is increasing at the rate of about 10,000 a day.

That the first successful American oil well, drilled in 1859 on a farm outside Titusville, Pa., was only 69 1/2 feet deep. Today an operator may drill four miles down, spend $2 million and still end up with nothing but a hole in the ground.

That the human body is about 4 per cent rock. (In most of us, it seems to be concentrated between our ears.)

That meal from poultry feathers, which contain up to 88 per cent protein, is now being used as chicken feed.

That corn grits, a popular form of human nourishment in the South, now being imbedded in auto tires, help prevent skidding.

That during the witchcraft hysteria that gripped Salem, Mass., in 1692 even animals weren't safe. The good citizens hanged 19 men and women, crushed an old man to death between two stones and also two dogs executed whose behavior brought them under suspicion as witches.

That, speaking of dogs, we are in the "dog days" now. Precisely speaking, they don't last all summer, but only from July 3 to Aug. 11. During this 40-day period, Sirius, the dog star, can be seen over Egypt (where the term arose) and it is usually that land's hottest, most humid season.

That although water in itself isn't fattening, a survey showed 50 per cent of the people think it is.

That doctors say sleeping on your tummy is bad for your posture and helps make you sway-backed. They recommend sleeping either on your side with knees bent or on your back with a small pillow under your knees.

That the only packaged grocery store at New Salem, Ill., was breakfast cocoa.

That the Colonists planned the Boston Tea Party in a tavern called the Green Dragon, the secret meeting place of the Sons of Liberty.

That while it's highly improbable that "elephants never forget," they do have better memories than most animals.

That Steve Allen, in addition to all his television chores, has completed a book of poetry and is writing two novels.

That a check by a TV firm disclosed women spend 22 per cent more time than men in viewing video.

You Just Never Can Tell

By George Sokolsky

According to Miss Dorothy Sara, president of the American Graphological Society, there is a great difference between a handwriting expert and a "graphologist." This is valuable information in these days when comrade Shepilov proposes new plans for outlawing the hydrogen bomb.

A handwriting expert is a fellow who can decipher a kidnapper's note or a forgery on a check. His object is merely to discover whether all the "e's" or "a's" were written by the same hand. A graphologist tries to discover the inner meaning of the penmanship. Miss Sara writes me that some graphologists are conducting experiments in hospitals and various institutions, "studying handwritings of patients in certain illness categories and striving to find clues which will be of aid to doctors in their diagnoses."

Now that the atom has been split and fused and ways have been found to transmute metals and to change the world, or even to destroy it, who can say that it is not possible to diagnose illness by graphology or to determine the fitness of a man to be president by the way he signs his name to a check or an I.O.U.?

Maybe that is the way to solve all problems inexpensively: Let Eisenhower, Harriman and Stevenson enter a penmanship contest and whoever has the best penmanship, let him be president. I am sure that there will be some quarrel between those who favor the Spencerian style, which was designed for pen and ink, and the Palmer method which was taught in the childhood of those who are today middle-aged. Many children today are not taught to write but learn how to print. Then they put loops to the printing and call it penmanship. The theory must be that as everybody uses a typewriter, learning how to use script is a waste of time like learning how to make bread in an era of cellophane-wrapped victuals.

At any rate, when one receives something written by a person under 30, it looks as though a chipmunk had run across the page. Also, the spelling is ferocious, spelling being a specialty only of those who wish to win fortunes on television.

How the graphologist can diagnose anything from the handwriting of one who cannot write anything by hand, puzzles me, as it must you, but I am sure that Miss Sara will explain it in due course. Also, why Ike should not run for president as his hand is shaky after an operation. This is an interesting point and explains why William Shakespeare could not have written the plays attributed to him, since his various signatures not only show that his hand was shaky but also that he spelled phonetically, like the late Col. Robert R. McCormick and the still later Theodore Roosevelt, both of whom went in for simplified spelling probably because they were poor spellers to start with.

All this diagnosis by handwriting started after all the doctors who had or had not practiced on the President were exhausted by the experience, and it was suggested that a handwriting expert—pardon me, a graphologist—said that Ike was on the Fritz because his handwriting disclosed that he is a sick man.

This discovery was leaped upon by Democrats who now had infallible and undeniable proof that Ike is a sick man although at the moment he was in a hospital being sick and could not even be photographed for the occasion. All this being so, the graphologist succeeded in doing what the Republican and Democratic doctors failed to do, namely, to establish the incontrovertible truth that a president of the United States is only a human being and may and can succumb to all the ills and accidents that befall other human beings and that he may have to undergo surgery while he is president as he might have had to do even had he never become president.

There is a democracy in sickness, it befalling the great and the small, the important and the insignificant, the rich and the poor, alike. And it comes at the wrong time for everybody. And what can be a wronger time than just before an election? And yet Herbert Hoover, who had the singles 20 years or so after he left the White House, was defeated in 1932 by a man who had had polio before he came to the White House.

So, you never can tell.

Drugs for Allergies Promise Some Relief

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Two new drugs give promise of bringing relief to many of the 16,000,000 Americans suffering from hay fever, asthma, eczema, hives, poison ivy and other allergic disorders.

At a recent meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in St. Louis, the drugs Meticorten and Meticortone were cited as among the newest and best weapons in the treatment of allergic diseases that had failed to respond to other methods.

The drugs were first made available to the medical profession a little over a year ago.

Initial Success

Their initial success came in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. In fact, more than 1,000,000 persons suffering rheu-matoid arthritis and other disease conditions are under treatment with these Meti-type drugs today.

The new steroids reportedly are four to five times more active and more potent than either cortisone or hydrocortisone. And they do not cause weight gains from retention of sodium and water, as did the older drugs.

Where cortisone, hydrocortisone and ACTH have failed in certain hay fever cases, the Meti drugs have succeeded.

Good Results

During the year-long evaluation, doctors say the drugs have prolonged life for the "critical list" asthmatic; provided clear breathing for the hay fever victim through the worst ragweed season in five years; dramatical-

Robert R. McCormick and the still later Theodore Roosevelt, both of whom went in for simplified spelling probably because they were poor spellers to start with.

All this diagnosis by handwriting started after all the doctors who had or had not practised on the President were exhausted by the experience, and it was suggested that a handwriting expert—pardon me, a graphologist—said that Ike was on the Fritz because his handwriting disclosed that he is a sick man.

This discovery was leaped upon by Democrats who now had infallible and undeniable proof that Ike is a sick man although at the moment he was in a hospital being sick and could not even be photographed for the occasion. All this being so, the graphologist succeeded in doing what the Republican and Democratic doctors failed to do, namely, to establish the incontrovertible truth that a president of the United States is only a human being and may and can succumb to all the ills and accidents that befall other human beings and that he may have to undergo surgery while he is president as he might have had to do even had he never become president.

There is a democracy in sickness, it befalling the great and the small, the important and the insignificant, the rich and the poor, alike. And it comes at the wrong time for everybody. And what can be a wronger time than just before an election? And yet Herbert Hoover, who had the singles 20 years or so after he left the White House, was defeated in 1932 by a man who had had polio before he came to the White House.

So, you never can tell.

Diet and Health

Two new drugs give promise of bringing relief to many of the 16,000,000 Americans suffering from hay fever, asthma, exzema, hives, poison ivy and other allergic disorders.

At a recent meeting of the American Academy of Allergy in St. Louis, the drugs Meticorten and Meticortelone were cited as among the newest and best weapons in the treatment of allergic diseases that had failed to respond to other methods.

The drugs were first made available to the medical profession a little over a year ago.

Initial Success

Their initial success came in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. In fact, more than 1,000,000 persons suffering rheu-matoid arthritis and other disease conditions are under treatment with these Meti-type drugs today.

The new steroids reported are four to five times more active and more potent than either cortisone or hydrocortisone. And they do not cause weight gains from retention of sodium and water, as did the older drugs.

Where cortisone, hydrocortisone and ACTH have failed in certain hay fever cases, the Meti drugs have succeeded.

Good Results

During the year-long evaluation, doctors say the drugs have prolonged life for the "critical list" asthmatic; provided clear breathing for the hay fever victim through the worst ragweed season in five years; dramati-

8 Marine Recruits Admit Being 'Goof Offs' in Camp

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Eight survivors of Platoon 71's death march have testified they were "goof offs" and Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon was a Marine they admired.

Two of McKeon's former boots said that even though the sergeant had struck them, it was more in exasperation than in anger because he wanted to make them "gung ho" Marines.

In all this testimony, there was no trace of bitterness against the pale, impassive former drill instructor from Worcester, Mass.

The 31-year-old McKeon, who once had a reputation as a laughing, happy man, led 74 members of Platoon 71, then beginning their sixth week of training, into a marsh near the rifle range of this sprawling training center on the night of April 8 "to teach them discipline."

At first, so the testimony ran, the recruits treated the march as a lark. Then there was a cry for "help," followed by panic and death. Six drowned.

McKEON is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty.

The prosecution witnesses all said they thought discipline in the platoon had been poor. It was this that made McKeon want to weld them into "gung ho" outfit.

"Gung ho" is a strictly Marine expression. It means to Marines "All for one and one for all."

With obvious reluctance and only under prodding did Pfc. Charles Langone Jr., 20, of New Hyde Park, N.Y., a recruit platoon section leader, tell of the "little argument" he had with McKeon.

While the platoon was on the rifle range, Langone said, it had been ordered to forego second servings at meals.

On the fatal day, Langone said McKeon caught him trying to get seconds and asked "Hungry?" Langone said he snapped: "What do you have to do around here to be hungry?"

Subsequently, Langone explained, he and McKeon sat down and discussed the discipline in the platoon.

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman asked, "Didn't he tell you that . . . a Marine who got into combat, who wasn't disciplined, who didn't respond to orders, could be shipped home in a pine box?" Langone answered, "Yes, sir."

3,000 Slogans Studied in GOP Contest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides to Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) reported in some amazement today he has received about 3,000 suggestions for a 1956 GOP campaign slogan.

They were submitted in response to an appeal by Bolton just last week.

The Ohio congressman, expressing dissatisfaction with current GOP phrases, offered a $25 savings bond to the winner, still to be picked.

Some of the suggested slogans emphasize candidates. For example:

"All in favor say Ike."
"Keep that Eisenhower look—a fat pocketbook."
"Peace and power with Eisenhower."

"Eisenhower, man of the hour."
"Better an ill President than an ill country."

Other Republicans like the "peace and prosperity" theme, with such variations as:
"From gloom to boom."
"Grim and share it party."
"A chicken on every corner."
"We will not lower the boom."
"Well heeled? You ought to know!"

Just what Bolton will do with the winning slogan hasn't been decided upon, but the GOP National Committee has expressed interest.

"Actually," said a committee spokesman, "we think now we'll go right down to the wire with 'peace, prosperity and progress' but we haven't closed our minds."

The enthusiasm for slogans isn't nearly so strong at the Democratic National Committee. "We don't use slogans," said a woman official there. "They sound too much like huckstering."

Campbell-Hewitt Wedding In Madison Mills Church

MRS. ROBERT P. HEWITT, JR.

The altar of the Madison Mills Methodist Church was decorated with wedding urns of white gladiolas, pom poms and carnations, palms of emerald leaves and a seven branch candelabra on either side for the ceremony uniting Miss Kenna Lou Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Campbell of Mt. Sterling and Mr. Robert P. Hewitt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Hewitt, Sr., of West Point Pleasant, N. J., on July 22 at two-thirty p. m. with the Reverend Fred M. Mark officiating.

The ceremony was preceded by a half-hour of nuptial music. The organist, Mrs. Homer Wilson, played "To A Wild Rose," "Love Divine," "Serenade," "At Dawning," "I Love You Truly," and "Mendelssohn" wedding marches. Mrs. Damon Merritt, soloist, chose for her songs "Because," "Oh Promise Me," "Through The Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin. The bodice of lace was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves tapering to a point over her hands. The bouffant skirt of nylon tulle and lace swept into a chapel train. The bride's finger-tip veil of imported illusion was caught to a half-hat of iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with bountiful roses which were removed from her corsage for going away. She wore a necklace and earrings which were a gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Victor D. Hewitt of Reynoldsburg and the bridesmatron was Mrs. John W. Melvin of Mt. Sterling. Miss June Boyd of Columbus was bridesmaid and Miss Sandra Hickley of Dayton, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore identical dresses of velvety nylon over pastel green net and taffeta. They were ballerina length and designed with scoop necklines in front and form-fitting in the back. They carried reed baskets of white carnations, delphinium and bountiful roses.

Mr. Victor D. Hewitt of Reynolds-

Braves, Bums Shun Cincy's Ugly Ducklings

Milwaukee, Brooklyn
Mark Off Redlegs as
Serious Flag Threat

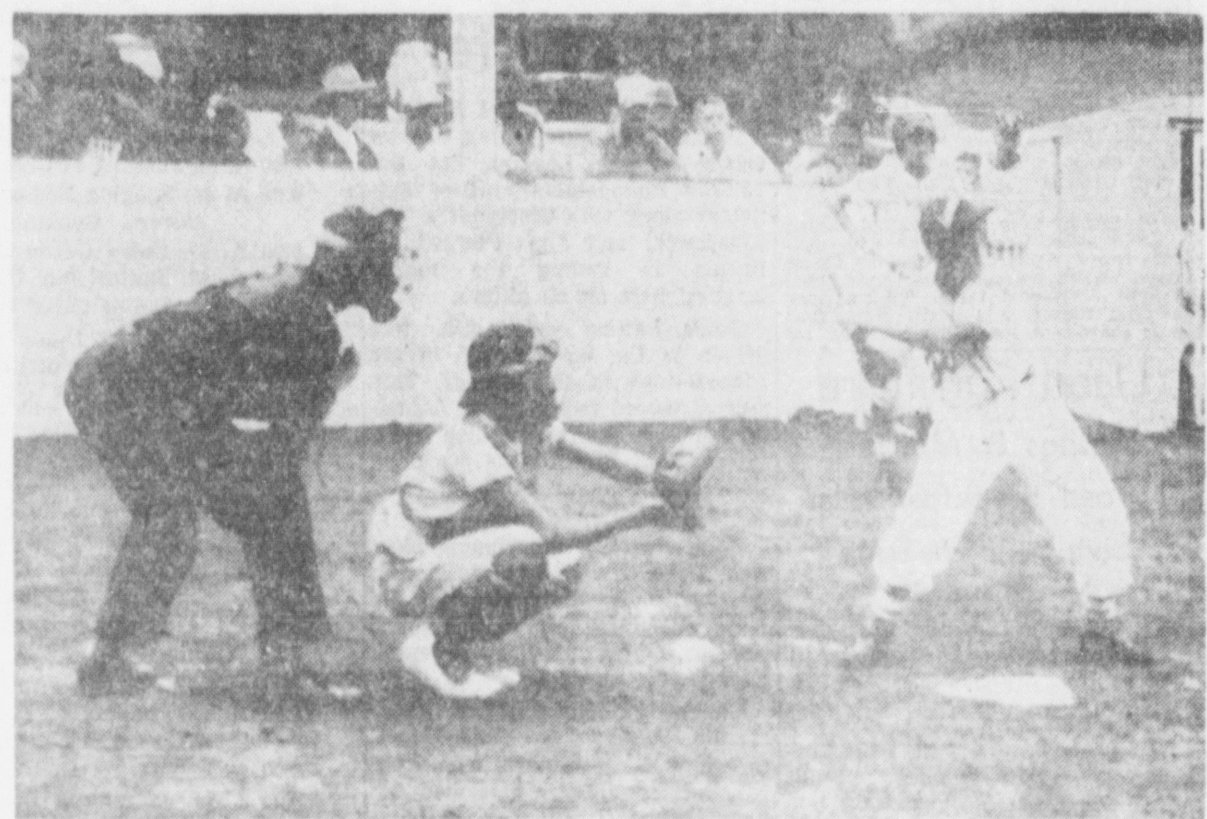

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Redlegs, the National League's "ugly ducklings," stubbornly continue to hover with in sight of the pot o' gold despite snubs by Milwaukee and Brooklyn.
Although the Redlegs trailed front-running Milwaukee by only 2½ games after Monday night's 4-5, triumph over Pittsburgh, Braves' officials still regard the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers as the team to beat for the pennant.
The Dodgers, in turn, have eyes only for the Braves, who lead them by six games.
As the Dodgers prepared to meet Cincinnati tonight at Ebbets Field, Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi was quoted as saying the only team he feared was Milwaukee.

"Cincinnati has a good club but Milwaukee has more balance and finer pitching," he said. Birdie Tebbetts has handled what he's got very well. We just don't have the pitching to stop them as the other clubs do."
Johnny Klippstein (8-6), who has beaten the Dodgers three times this season, was scheduled to pitch for the Redlegs against the veteran Sal Maglie (2-3).
Only two games were scheduled Monday, both at night, one in each league. In the American League's only encounter, the last-place Kansas City Athletics upset the White Sox in Chicago 3-2.
Cincinnati's victory Monday night came when Johnny Temple singled home Bob Thurman in the eighth inning with the deciding run. The triumph went to Brooks Lawrence in relief. Lawrence, who won his first 13 decisions, now owns a 14-1 record.
Elroy Face was charged with the defeat, his sixth. Thurman, who scored Cincinnati's winning run, kept the Reds in the game with a sixth-inning home run.
Kansas City scored all its runs inside the first three innings, then held off the White Sox on strong relief pitching by Tom Gorman and Bobby Shantz. Hee Lopez drove in the A's first two runs in the second, and Vic Power singled in what proved to be the winning run in the third.
Gorman replaced starter Jack McMahon with the bases full in the second and forced Nellie Fox to hit into an inning-ending double play. He limited the Sox to three hits until the ninth when he walked Jim Delsing, who scored Chicago's second run on pinch hitter Ron Northey's double. Shantz then came in to retire the next three batters.
Jim Wilson suffered his eighth loss against 11 victories. Gorman got the victory to even his season's record at 6-6.

Giovanelli Scores TKO over Poirier

NEW YORK — Danny Giovanelli has himself a winning streak of one today and a solid reputation as a comeback guy among the middleweights.
The 24-year-old New Yorker came back from a near knockout midway through the eighth round and nailed Gene Poirier for a technical knockout before the round was over last night in their scheduled 10-rounder at St. Nick's arena.

All-Stars Bow to Portsmouth

"BUCK JONES," the Flashes' star pitcher-batter, gets ready to swing for one of the three hits the Washington C. H. All-Stars got off Pitcher Ray Pope of Portsmouth in the Little League All-Star game at Wilson Field Monday evening. The Washington C. H. team lost, 5-0. (Record-Herald photo)

The Washington C. H. All-Stars, playing good baseball all the way, bowed to the Portsmouth All-Star nine, 5-0, in the first round of the Little League tournament here Monday evening.
Not a little assistance was given the Portsmouth nine by a light, but steady, rain which fell throughout the game and made the ball a tough thing for Washington C. H. pitchers and infielders to handle.
Three vital errors by Washington C. H. did a good deal of the damage.
Ray Pope, Portsmouth's 12-year-old fireballer, took to the mound for the visitors and hurled top-flight ball throughout the game. He gave up three hits to the powers of the Washington C. H. batting order—Buck Jones of the Flashes,

Charlie Wright of the Cowboys and Mike Wilson of the Jets.

Pitching for the Washington C. H. nine were Mike Burris of the Jets and Jones of the Flashes. Burris started the game and held things in check until the fourth inning when his usually fine control

Softball Tourney Ends First Round

BOWLING GREEN — Three games last night wound up the first round of the Ohio International Softball League state tournament, and two of them went into extra innings.
Bowling Green VFW was extended to 11 innings before edging Routh Packers of Tiffin, 2-1. The Toledo Playboys had to go nine innings to beat Fremont, 4-3.
In the third game of the double-elimination tournament, Harley's Gulf of Napoleon trounced Mesa 7-1, also of Napoleon, 12-1.
Napoleon Ford meets Gerald Merchants tonight and Bowling Green plays the Playboys.

Shirley Fry Adds Another Crown

CHICAGO — Wimbledon champion Shirley Fry "just had to" win her first National Clay Courts Tennis championship yesterday in order to save face at a hometown banquet later this week.
Miss Fry, trailing badly in the first set, rallied to defeat Althea Gibson of New York City, 7-5, 6-1, and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., also came from behind to win his second men's title with a long, drawn out 3-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, triumph over Ed Moylan of Trenton, N. J. started to slip and three runs got by him. Two more got past relief Jones in the fifth before he found himself a n d finished o f f the visitors.

Fast on the bases and in the field, the Portsmouth nine didn't let a single slip get past them. They took the best advantage of each of the few slips made by the Washington C. H. nine to snare the triumph.
Pope had his own control trouble during the contest, but it was better spaced and the home team had trouble taking advantage of it. He gave up several walks and hit one batter—Dale Mathews of the Flashes.

Because of the Fair and in order to give both players and officials a little rest, there will be no more Little League baseball this week.

Trotters And Pacers

John Barnes and Sam Paulin of Mt. Sterling are the owners of a recent winner at Grandview when Dud Moon drove their High Society to the winner's circle in a $600 DD Pace. Time of the mile was 2:10.4 and the mutual return was $5.20, $4.00 and $2.80.

John Sagar, Fayette County's only licensed starter, has been busy this season and still has a full schedule to go. He is handling one of Paul Young's gates and has completed engagements at Anderson and Fort Wayne, Ind. Also on his list of harness meetings are: Bucyrus, Wapakoneta, Croton and Springfield in Ohio; Frankfort, Indiana; then Tiffin, Wellington and Carthage, also in Ohio. This week he will be at the local Fair where he serves as a member of the speed committee.

Willie's Folly has won another race at Roosevelt Raceway, this time in 2:05.4. The purse was a $3,000 BB pace and he was driven by J. Hodgins.

Eddie Cobb drove Amortizor to fourth place in the $25,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt July 12. Diamond Hal was the winner of the mile and a quarter event in 2:33.4.

Ribands, an eight year old pacer who was flown in from New Zealand as a gesture of good will by his owner, Frank Kelloway, was rewarded with a victory at Roosevelt in 2:03.3, the last quarter in 29.3 seconds. Eddie Cobb can be proud of the winning drive that he gave the horse from "down under."

Lady's First, five-year-old brown mare by Worthy Boy, took the $5,000 Trot at Sportsman's Park near Chicago recently in 2:04.3. This is the mare that raced through Ohio as two and three year old. She was the winner, as a three-year-old, of the Governor's Cup at the Ohio State Fair as well as the winner of the three-year-old trotting stake at the Fayette County Fair. She consistently beat such good trotters as Audrey Gordon's Jane Averill and Fleet Song, owned by Wayne Galvin and Dr. H. K. Bailey.

Barney Coe of Jeffersonville drove his own Nelda MacPherson to win the $700 C. Pace at Grandview Saturday night. Racing on a rain-drenched track Coe's mare was the winner in 2:11 flat. She returned $15.40, $5.60 and $3.80. In her last previous start she finished second to Mr. Creed in 2:09.2.

Times Square will go to Northville Downs near Detroit Wednesday night to make his second start of the year. Billy Roush will drive the Kirk horse. Roush drove Times Square last year at Chicago when he set a new track record of 2:00.2 on the half-mile oval.

The outlook for racing at the Fayette County Fair looks very good at this writing. Members of the speed committee report that horses are arriving nearly every hour to compete for the $11,800 in purses. We are going to press a little early this week because of the Fair, as well will attend it every day. SEE YOU AT THE FAIR.

Braves, Bums Shun Cincy's Ugly Ducklings

Milwaukee, Brooklyn
Mark Off Redlegs as
Serious Flag Threat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Redlegs, the National League's "ugly ducklings," stubbornly continue to hover with in sight of the pot o' gold despite snubs by Milwaukee and Brooklyn.

Although the Redlegs trailed front-running Milwaukee by only 2½ games after Monday night's 4-3 triumph over Pittsburgh, Braves' officials still regard the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers as the team to beat for the pennant.

The Dodgers, in turn, have eyes only for the Braves, who lead them by six games.

As the Dodgers prepared to meet Cincinnati tonight at Ebbets Field, Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi was quoted as saying the only team he feared was Milwaukee.

"Cincinnati has a good club but Milwaukee has more balance and finer pitching," he said. Birdie Tebbets has handled what he's got very well. We just don't have the pitching to stop them as the other clubs do."

Johnny Klippstein (8-6), who has beaten the Dodgers three times this season, was scheduled to pitch for the Redlegs against the veteran Sal Maglie (2-3).

Only two games were scheduled Monday, both at night, one in each league. In the American League's only encounter, the last-place Kansas City Athletics upset the White Sox in Chicago 3-2.

Cincinnati's victory Monday night came when Johnny Temple singled home Bob Thurman in the eighth inning with the deciding run. The triumph went to Brooks Lawrence in relief. Lawrence, who won his first 13 decisions, now owns a 14-1 record.

Eloy Face was charged with the defeat, his sixth. Thurman, who scored Cincinnati's winning run, kept the Reds in the game with a sixth-inning home run.

Kansas City scored all its runs inside the first three innings, then held off the White Sox on strong relief pitching by Tom Gorman and Bobby Shantz. Hec Lopez drove in the A's first two runs in the second, and Vic Power singled in what proved to be the winning run in the third.

Gorman replaced starter Jack McMahon with the bases full in the second and forced Nellie Fox to hit into an inning-ending double play. He limited the Sox to three hits until the ninth when he walked Jim Delsing, who scored Chicago's second run on pinch hitter Ron Northey's double. Shantz then came in to retire the next three batters.

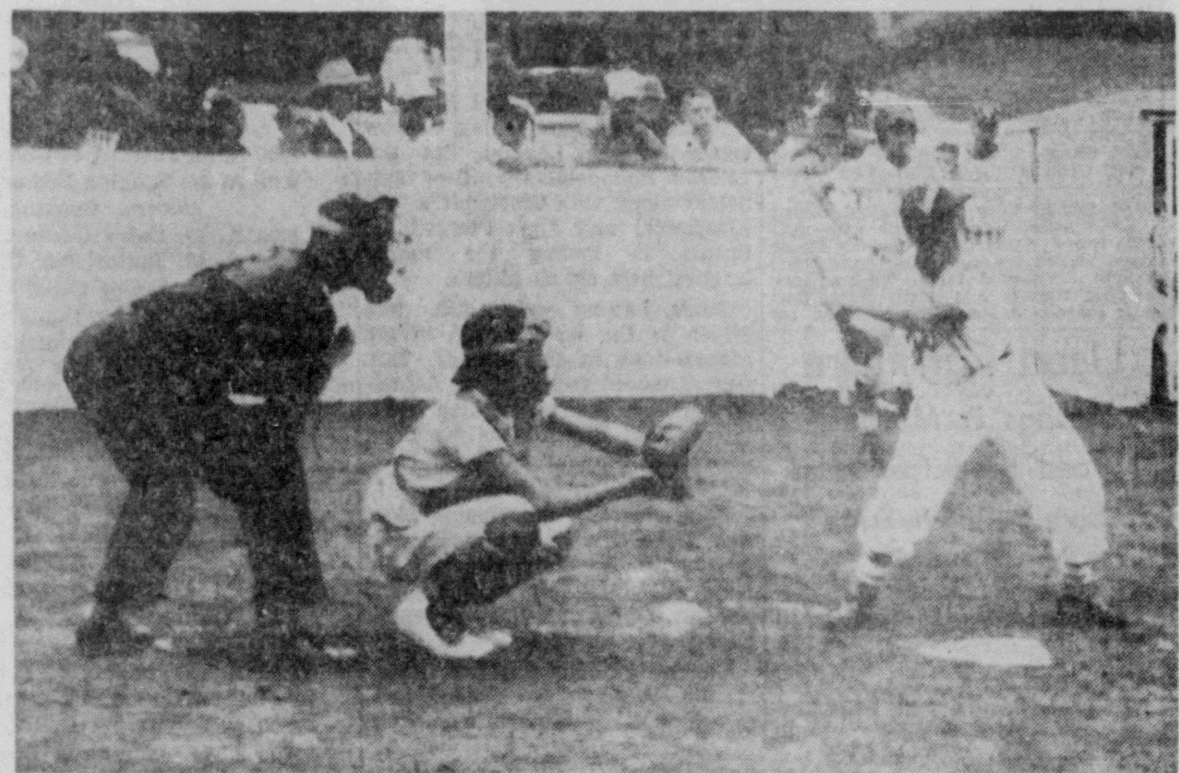

Jim Wilson suffered his eighth loss against 11 victories. Gorman got the victory to even his season's record at 6-6.

Giovanelli Scores TKO over Poirier

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Giovanelli has himself a winning streak of one today and a solid reputation as a comeback guy among the middleweights.

The 24-year-old New Yorker came back from a near knockout midway through the eighth round and nailed Gene Poirier for a technical knockout before the round was over last night in their scheduled 10-rounder at St. Nick's arena.

All-Stars Bow to Portsmouth

"BUCK JONES," the Flashes' star pitcher-batter, gets ready to swing for one of the three hits the Washington C. H. All-Stars got off Pitcher Ray Pope of Portsmouth in the Little League All-Star game at Wilson Field Monday evening. The Washington C. H. team lost, 5-0. (Record-Herald photo)

The Washington C. H. All-Stars, playing good baseball all the way, bowed to the Portsmouth All-Star nine, 5-0, in the first round of the Little League tournament here Monday evening.

Not a little assistance was given the Portsmouth nine by a light, but steady, rain which fell throughout the game and made the ball a tough thing for Washington C. H. pitchers and infielders to handle.

Three vital errors by Washington C. H. did a good deal of the damage.

Ray Pope, Portsmouth's 12-year-old fireballer, took to the mound for the visitors and hurled top-flight ball throughout the game. He gave up three hits to the powers of the Washington C. H. batting order—Buck Jones of the Flashes,

$25,000 Asked For Alienation Of Affections

Shooting at Jeff Has Aftermath in Court Here Now

A $25,000 alienation of affections suit was filed in Common Pleas Court here Monday afternoon. It is an echo of a shooting on August 2, 1954, when William M. Holford, Jeffersonville police chief at the time, fired three shots at Paul Rittenhouse at Jeffersonville.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Rittenhouse against Mrs. Lucille Holford, divorced wife of Holford, on grounds that Mrs. Holford has stolen the affections of her husband.

Reed M. Winegardner represents Mrs. Rittenhouse in the action.

Mrs. Rittenhouse states in her petition that she married Paul Rittenhouse on May 28, 1942, in Washington C. H. and that they have three children.

She claims that she and her husband lived happily together and that on Aug. 2, 1954, on diverse times since, including July 9, 1956, the defendant, Mrs. Holford, "wrongfully, unlawfully, and maliciously, by her machinations, enticements, favors, attentions, affections and seductive influence, induced the plaintiff's husband to become dissatisfied with the plaintiff" and caused him to abandon her and file a suit in Montgomery County, asking a divorce.

By reason of Mrs. Holford's conduct, Mrs. Rittenhouse said she has been deprived of the affections of her husband, all to her damage in the amount of $25,000 for which she asks judgment.

ON AUG. 2, 1954, Holford, while he was Jeffersonville's police chief, allegedly fired three shots at Rittenhouse and charged that he had been paying too much attention to his wife.

Rittenhouse charged Holford with shooting to kill and he was held to the grand jury.

The grand jury returned an indictment against Holford charging him with shooting to wound, but in the trial the jury found him guilty of assault and battery.

Holford, who is now caring for horses at a race track near Cleveland, was sent to the state hospital at Lima, found to be sane, returned here and, following his conviction for assault and battery, was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail.

Before the jail sentence was completed he was released by reason of illness to enter Veterans Hospital at Dayton.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Shipley

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Hilltop Church of Christ in Christian Union, New Holland, for Mrs. Mollie Shipley, 78, who died Saturday. The Rev. Arthur George officiated.

Mrs. Louise Merritt, Mrs. Virginia Blair and Mrs. Louise Leeth sang "Beyond the Sunset," "Sweet By and By" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. Arthur George was the piano accompanist.

Flowers were cared for by the pallbearers who were Lawrence, Eugene and Earl Watson, Allen Moats, Donald Dalrymple and Floyd Moats. Burial was in the family lot at New Holland Cemetery.

Steen Store Is Sold

years to keep in stride with progress and modernization.

Amplifying this generalization of plans, Heer said the store would be expanded by adding several new departments and increasing the stocks to provide a greater assortment of merchandise.

Air conditioning and a new lighting system probably will be next, he said, and then new front with new display windows are to be put in. He made it plain, however, that no timetable for the changes had been set up.

THERE ARE to be no major changes in either policy of management or quality of merchandise, the new owner said.

These policies and the quality of merchandise, first of the Stutson store and later the Steen store, have long been recognized as one of the magnets which have made Washington C. H. the hub of a trade area that reaches far beyond the boundaries of the city or county.

The sale of the store came as no great surprise to many in the city's business world. Reports that it was about to be sold have been prevalent here for several weeks, but the deal was not completed until Monday. And, until it was, both Steen and Heer declined to comment.

Heer also has the Thorne Department Store in Wilmington, but he said he planned to place it under a manager and supervise its operation from Washington C. H.

The Heers said they planned to move here in the near future.

Mrs. Heer plans to take an active interest in the store here, probably as a buyer of women's wear, just as she has in the store at Wilmington.

FOR STEEN, the sale of his store marked the end of 56 years in the retail business. And, Mrs. Steen has been closely associated with him all that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Steen said they planned to move to their farm on the Chillicothe Pike as soon as the house there is remodeled. In retirement, they plan to shift their interests to the raising of registered Hampshire swine, a field in which their son Richard already has made a good start.

For Heer, a native of Philadelphia, the purchase of the Steen store here marked another step in a merchandising career that started in 1932 when he joined the McCrory Stores, Corp. in Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia and continued with Montgomery Ward and the A. J. Olsen Co. until he purchased the H. H. Thorne Co. Store in Wilmington in 1948.

It was while he was the manager of three Olsen stores in eastern Ohio that he met and married Mrs. Heer, whose home was in East Liverpool, his headquarters. She was the women's ready-to-wear buyer for the three Olsen stores.

By unusual coincidence, Heer started in business for himself in the store in Wilmington that was founded by Steen in 1917 during the first World War and sold in 1928 when he joined the Marshall Field organization. Steen came here from Jacksonville, Ill., in 1933 and

Stock Car Races Balked by Rain

Benefit Program To Be Staged Later

Rain balked the stock car races scheduled for the Washington C. H. Speedway Monday night as a special event to raise money for the Pennington Bakery financial aid fund.

But, no sooner had the races been called off than Phil Tatman, manager of the Speedway, announced that a similar program of stock car races would be staged, probably on Aug. 8.

If the $50,000 goal of the Pennington fund is reached before then—and Tatman was basing his plans on the conviction that it would be—proceeds from the program are to be turned over to the Chamber of Commerce "to start a new industrial fund," the manager said. He commented that he, the owners of the cars and the drivers felt that the Chamber should have an industrial fund in order to be ready to take advantage of any opportunity that should arise in the future.

Several hundred stock car race fans had gathered at the Speedway, despite the drizzle of rain, before Tatman announced the decision to postpone the program. No tickets had been sold, however, and they waited hopefully in their cars.

With 24 cars and drivers in the pits or waiting at the gates in the rain, Tatman said a crew kept working steadily on the track to get it in shape—just in case the rain let up.

This award is a continuation of the Lewis Road improvement now under way. The same rate of cost is to apply, not to exceed $3,000 per mile.

Telemobile At Fair Here

A communications showcase on wheels that can also be used as an emergency telephone center will be at the Fair this week.

The two-toned, air-conditioned Telemobile was especially designed and built by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and is the first of its kind in the Bell System, according to Paul Dougherty, commercial manager at Washington C. H.

The dual-purpose Telemobile has its own power generating system, three coin telephones for public use and two radio telephones. In the event of a disaster which disrupts regular telephone service in a community, it can be driven to the location and three switchboards, which are a part of its equipment, connected quickly to outside lines, so that the entire unit will function as communications headquarters until normal service is resumed.

Dougherty said the unit is scheduled to be taken to county fairs throughout the southwestern area, to civic celebrations, telephone company open house events, public gatherings and to other special events that are held in various communities during the year. The Fayette County Fair is the first county fair to show the Telemobile in Ohio.

$25,000 Asked For Alienation Of Affections

Shooting at Jeff Has Aftermath in Court Here Now

A $25,000 alienation of affections suit was filed in Common Pleas Court here Monday afternoon. It is an echo of a shooting on August 2, 1954, when William M. Holford, Jeffersonville police chief at the time, fired three shots at Paul Rittenhouse at Jeffersonville.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Rittenhouse against Mrs. Lucille Holford, divorced wife of Holford, on grounds that Mrs. Holford has stolen the affections of her husband.

Reed M. Winegardner represents Mrs. Rittenhouse in the action.

Mrs. Rittenhouse states in her petition that she married Paul Rittenhouse on May 28, 1942, in Washington C. H. and that they have three children.

She claims that she and her husband lived happily together and that on Aug. 2, 1954, and on diverse times since, including July 9, 1956, the defendant, Mrs. Holford, "wrongfully, unlawfully, and maliciously, by her machinations, enticements, favors, attentions, affections and seductive influence, induced the plaintiff's husband to become dissatisfied with the plaintiff" and caused him to abandon her and file a suit in Montgomery County, asking a divorce.

By reason of Mrs. Holford's conduct, Mrs. Rittenhouse said she has been deprived of the affections of her husband, all to her damage in the amount of $25,000 for which she asks judgment.

ON AUG. 2, 1954, Holford, while he was Jeffersonville's police chief, allegedly fired three shots at Rittenhouse and charged that he had been paying too much attention to his wife.

Rittenhouse charged Holford with shooting to kill and he was held to the grand jury.

The grand jury returned an indictment against Holford charging him with shooting to wound, but in the trial the jury found him guilty of assault and battery.

Holford, who is now caring for horses at a race track near Cleveland, was sent to the state hospital a Lima, found to be sane, returned here and, following his conviction for assault and battery, was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail.

Before the jail sentence was completed he was released by reason of illness to enter Veterans Hospital at Dayton.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Shipley

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Hilltop Church of Christ in Christian Union, New Holland, for Mrs. Mollie Shipley, 78, who died Saturday. The Rev. Arthur George officiated.

Mrs. Louise Merritt, Mrs. Virginia Blair and Mrs. Louise Leeth sang "Beyond the Sunset", "Sweet By and By" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus". Mrs. Arthur George was the piano accompanist. Flowers were cared for by the pallbearers who were Lawrence, Eugene and Earl Watson, Allen Moats, Donald Dalrymple and Floyd Moats. Burial was in the family lot at New Holland Cemetery.

Amplifying this generalization of plans, Heer said the store would be expanded by adding several new departments and increasing the stocks to provide a greater assortment of merchandise.

Benefit Program To Be Staged Later

Rain balked the stock car races scheduled for the Washington C. H. Speedway Monday night as a special event to raise money for the Pennington Bakery financial aid fund.
